LAWRENCEVILLE, VA., May 29.—T) e closing exercises of the St. Paul Normal and Industrial School, the third largest institution of its kind in America for the industrial training of colored youth of both sexes, which began with the baccalaurente sermon by Rt. Rev. A. M. Bunday, May 21st, came to an end last with the meeting and banquet of the Alumni Society.

The graduating sermon was preached

The graduating sermon was preached by Bishop Randolph, but owing to pressing engagements elsewhere and having to administer the rite of confirmation, the bishop was compelled to speak very briefly. It was more in the nature of fatherly talk, that breathed in its every line the spirt of broad christianty and love rather than a formal sermon. He emphasized the mportance of thoroughly consecrated lives. He told his hearers that they were about to embark upon life; that they must drop shadows, vis-

BISHOP LINES.

Bishop Lines sa'd he wanted to express his most unualified commendation of this great work of the Church, which was filling its mission so grandly and so successfully. His heart swelled with pride and gratitude to God as he looked upon the facts of so many young men and women being trained under the auspices of the Church in the essentials that go to make character, manhood and womanhood. He could but realize what leaven such young men and women would be to the vast lump of Ignorance and superstition of this race, and he hanked God for such a wook and congratulated the Church in having a man so thoroughly consecrated to his people and the interest of the Church as Archidencon Russell. He and his comraides had seen and heard for themselves, and they could go, back and tell their people that the falf had never been tild. In a letter from Bishop Lines, just received, under fate of May the 25th, he has the following to say: "We e-foyed our visit to Lawrenceville very much, and as one of the hishops I wish to thank you very heartily for all hat you dd. I am sure that we came away with high spireelaheartly for all that you did. I am sure that we came away with high apprecia-tion of the character of your work and a desire to make it known to the Church, and to render any service in our power. You have built up a great work and lave made a good name for yourself in your generation."

After the exercises were over the bishops inspected the school's electrical light and les plant. They left next morning at 4:50 for the North.

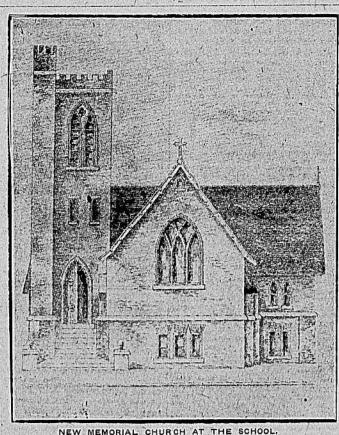

GRADUATING EXERCISES

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Wednesday at 8 p'clock P. M. the spacious assembly room of Maurice Hall was filled to overflowing with graduates, visitors and friends of the institution to witness the seventeenth annual graduating exercises. The white friends of the school attended liberally. In fact, nearly one whole side of the hall was required to accommodate them. Many of the most prominent and influential white citizens of the place were among the number.

One regretted feature was the unavoid-

Funeral of Judge Christian.

The funeral services of the late Judge Joseph Christian took place yesterday atternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his son, Mr. Walter Christian, No. 315 South Third Street, and were very simple, in conformity with the wishes of the family. The deceased had a large and well known family connection, including many well known residents of this city and of Dastern Virginia, and some from other States. The services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Evans. D. D.

At the conclusion of the services the body was conveyed to Hollywood Cemetery, and there interred, the interment being private. The pall-bearers were well known representatives of the bench and bar and friends of the family.

previously appointed presented the following resolutions, which were adopted:
Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to take from our church and society our dear friend and president, Mrs. G. T. Collins, be it, therefore, Resolved, That by the death of Mrs. Collins we recognize that we have received a severe blow as a church, a Sunday school and an aid society, but we bow to the wisdom of God, knowing that His ways are not our ways, and that "He doeth all things well;"
That we mourn the loss of one who has by her wany acts proven a faithful friend to her church and community. "Her sun has gone down while it was yet day," but her memory will be held in fond recollection by all who knew her, especially by those members of the Ladies' Ald Society jwith whom, she worked so faithfully and carnestly.

To her deeply bereaved husband, her sorrowing devoted mother and dear little children, we extend our 'sincere and loving sympathy and pray that they may be given the psace of God which passeth all understanding.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the records of our society, that a copy be rent to the family and another to the Baltimore and Richmond Christian Advocate for publication.
